

John Lindahl started his work with scholarships in 1972 when his college roommate was killed in Vietnam. He co-founded a scholarship in his roommate's name that is still growing and being awarded at UNH.

More recently, he served as a Board Member of the Salem State University Foundation, serving on both the Executive Committee and the Investment Committee.

In 2006 he saw a need for a scholarship that better met the needs of college students. In conjunction with the Rotary Club of Marblehead Harbor, the Enhanced Scholarship Trust was born. A few years later, again with an innovative solution, the 2nd Chance Scholarship was added and in 2017 the Frances Welch Scholarship was launched.

In his free time, John sails, skis, dotes on his granddaughter, and enjoys the occasional cigar. John lives in Marblehead with his heartmate, Fawn.
